BUILD A LEGACY

You can give even a blank canvas of a home a welcoming, heritage feel by concentrating on texture and pieces with a personal story. In this apartment by Ukrainian design studio Rosko Family Design (rosko.com.ua), the tapestry – a reimagining of a vintage work passed down within the owner's family for generations – has a pleasingly tactile quality that is mirrored in Bonaldo's plush and inviting 'Peanut B' velvet sofa by Mauro Lapparini. Choosing fixtures that will age elegantly also adds a timeless quality – as the oak parquet flooring develops more of a patina over time, this room's appeal will only increase. LD

CONCENTRATE ON TEXTURE, PATINA AND PIECES THAT EVOKE A SENSE OF HISTORY FOR A LIVING ROOM THAT WILL IMPROVE WITH AGE

19 Milanese brand Rimadesio has innovation, research and environmental awareness at its core – all of which come into play in its new launch for the Salone del Mobile: an extendable version of its 'Long Island' range of tables by Giuseppe Bavuso. The design's structure is simple, with the aim of supporting and displaying the range of tops, which include thinly-cut stone (below), glass and timber (rimadesio.com).

Birthday celebrations are in order at Italian brand Visionnaire's stand in Milan, with the firm marking its 60th year. Founded in 1959 in Bologna by the Cavalli family, it has consistently looked to the future while cementing its reputation as a byword for craftsmanship. Suitably celebratory, Visionnaire's new range features a plethora of luxe materials, with the 'Marty' console sporting a sleek mix of smoked glass and brass (visionnaire-home.com).

As it is the centenary of the founding of the Bauhaus, this year Knoll is launching a limited-edition version of the 'MR Bauhaus' chaise longue, stamped with a special mark on its base. It's actually a double celebration, as the original, designed in 1929 by Modernist Ludwig Mies van der Rohe, turns 90 this year (knolleurope.com).

Italian company Bonaldo has been crafting beds for more than 80 years, but far from resting on its laurels, the brand is constantly forging ahead with new ideas. This year's big launches demonstrate the breadth of its thinking, from the futuristic 'Lovy' bed to the Chanel-inspired 'Madame C' and elegant 'Full Moon' (below), with its luxurious padded headboard (bonaldo.it).
